

BRITISH PERIODICAL LITERATURE.

Republication of the London Quarterly, the Edinburgh, the North British, and the Westminster Reviews and Blackwood's Edinburgh Magazine. LONDON: SCOTT & CO., PUBLISHERS, 79 FLEET STREET, N. Y.

We regard these periodicals as standing at the very head of British Literature, embracing, as they do, among their contributors the most distinguished writers of the day. The Edinburgh Review, the great pioneer of the family of Quaterlies, still maintains its ascendancy as the leading Review of the world. Its vigor and originality, its profound learning and critical acumen, are still predominant as in its palmy days. In its politics it maintains a happy medium between the rank Toryism of the High Church party and the radical doctrines of the Chartists and Reformers. The London Quarterly, edited by that distinguished scholar and elegant writer, Lockhart, the son-in-law of Sir Walter Scott, though strongly tinged with the ultra conservative doctrines of the Tories, ranks only second to the Edinburgh; and the two are regarded as the parents of the numerous progeny of Reviews now so plentiful in both hemispheres. The North British Review is comparatively a new publication, being only in the sixth year of its existence. It had its origin in the great ecclesiastical movement in Scotland, which required an organ to represent the Free Church party. The basis of this journal is the Evangelism of the 19th century, and it is one of the striking characteristics of the times, that the great principle which Robertson, Smith, and many other eminent men of Scotland, took the field a century ago to write down, is now advocated and vindicated in this able work, and in the same literary metropolis (Edinburgh). This review is by no means a strictly theological work, nor is it ultra in its views on any of the grand departments of human knowledge. It is edited by Dr. Hanna, the son-in-law of the lamented Dr. Chalmers (its principal founder), associated with Sir David Brewster, whose brilliant articles on the subject of Astronomy and kindred subjects have graced the pages of the Review and delighted its numerous readers. The Westminster Review now also includes the "Foreign Quarterly," the two being united and published in London, under the title of the Westminster and Foreign Quarterly Review. It contains all the peculiar features of the two Reviews, and is, consequently, of much greater value than either was when published separately. In its politics it is decidedly liberal, being an enemy to all Tory privileges, hereditary rights, kingly prerogatives, &c., and it maintains an unflinching crusade against the alliance of Church and State. More recently it has become the medium through which Cobden promulgates his Free-Trade doctrines, several articles having lately been published from the great "reformer." Its literary character is of a high order, and its information in regard to Foreign Continental Literature is very valuable, containing much that cannot be found in any other publication. Blackwood, the King of Magazines, and the oldest in existence, is acknowledged throughout the world as the best. Its contents may be considered under the general heads of classical literature, biography, narratives (historical and fictitious), poetry, critical analyses of new works, &c., while its politics is like that of the London Quarterly, unmitigated conservatism. We can, however, forgive its unpalatable dogmas and its occasional ungracious things at this country, and admire none the less the wit and the wit which charms us in the perusal of its brilliant pages. These invaluable publications number among their contributors, past and present, such eminent names as Southey, Scott, Lockhart, Wordsworth, Mrs. Samuel, Jeffrey, Napier, McIntosh, Brougham, Macaulay, Bentham, Cobden, Professor Wilson, De Quincy, Dr. Warren, James, Bulwer, Sidney Smith, Sir David Brewster, Drs. Chalmers and Hanna, and a host of others scarcely less distinguished as scholars or divines. The republication of these works in this country is an enterprise eminently deserving the encouragement of the American people. They will have a powerful tendency to correct the corrupt taste which unfortunately exists among too large a portion of our reading community, who look for their intellectual aliment almost entirely to the sickly sentimental novel, or the ephemeral and sometimes demoralizing columns of the cheap magazines and eastern newspapers of the day. We therefore cordially recommend them to universal patronage, and trust many of them may find their way to this part of Ohio.

For further information and the terms of these works, we refer our readers to the prospectus in another column of our paper of to-day.

The following is the letter we alluded to last week, in relation to the appointment of Post Master at Green Creek. An article in the Freeman a week or two since, gave a true statement of the matter, and we do not deem it necessary for us to follow the subject further; and in giving publicity to the following letter, we would remark that we are unacquainted with parties, and should any of them think themselves aggrieved, our columns will be at their service, for explanation:

GIVEN CRICK, Dec. 20th, 1840.

Mr. FORT: I wish to occupy a small space in your paper, for the purpose of correcting two or three misstatements, which appeared in an article in the Democrat of last week, headed "More Propositions." It is true I had but twelve names on my petition, but they were men of the first standing, and all that were necessary to procure the appointment. I could have got any number of names on it, several of them Democrats, if I had solicited them, but thought it unnecessary. The Democrat says the remonstrance was got up by the Whigs, which assertion is unfounded. It was got up by the celebrated pettifogger, Wolcott Tuttle, one of the meanest Locofocos in the township. The remonstrance was written by the father of the late Post Master, who is also a Locofoco, backed by Luther Porter, a half-whig and any thing. Instead of spending two hours, as represented by the Democrat, they spent a day and a half, and several of the names on the remonstrance were minors. Those Whigs that signed it, were chiefly relatives of the late Post Master.

Yours, &c., JACOB McCLEARY, P. M.

We would direct the attention of our readers to the advertisement of Mr. David Betts, in another column of our paper. He has just opened several boxes of New Goods, and as to selling them cheap, all know him to be some punkin.

The following communication was handed us, with a request to give it an insertion in the Freeman, and we being of an accommodating disposition, of course cannot refuse. The production is undoubtedly original, which is more than can be said of a great many other articles, and is certainly a redeeming trait in the writer. We give it verbatim, et literatim, et punctuatum, et apostrophatum, and all, so that we may not be accused with garbling or misconstruing its meaning:

FREMONT CITY, Jan. 1 1850

DEAR BROTHER: in the Church I take this opportunity of informing you that we are all well at present and judge that you are the same from what we can learn in conversation with one of the members the other day I learned that you with Mr. Kridler and others Thomas L. Hawkins for instance A. beaver in the faith disbanding a poor Millerite from your Church just because he wanted to express his views upon the speedy coming of our Saviour Lord and Jesus Christ think upon this my Christian friend did you ever know your blessed Lord to tell his disciples to take that man out of the synagogue what a shame it was for a Churchman to treat a stranger in that way what other Denomination would have done such a trick as that except the Episcopal Methodist not a Church in the World I dare say would be guilty of such a transaction as that now my dear friend I am telling this for your good and for the good of the Church now I want to ask you a question do you believe the Word of God if you do why do you not Preach the coming of Christ does not the Bible tell you expressly to preach the second coming of Christ if I have offended you in writing to you in this way I am very sorry excuse this short letter have this put in the paper the Freeman

I remain your obedient servant

FATHER MILLER DEAD.—Mr. William Miller familiarly known as "Father Miller," and as "Miller the Prophet," died at his home in Kompton, Washington county, on the 20th inst., aged about 68. Mr. Miller was a native of Pittsfield, Mass., and during the last war with England served as a Captain of Volunteers on the northern frontier. He was a shrewd but narrow minded man, practical in affairs, though of an ardent and fanatical temperament. He began to speak on the subject of the Millennium in 1833, and in ten years which preceded the time which he had set for the consummation of all prophecy, he labored assiduously in the middle and northern states, averaging, it is said, nearly one sermon a day for half that period. He was uneducated, and not largely read in even the common English commentaries; his views were absurd and supported but feebly; yet he succeeded in building up a sect of some 30 or 40,000 disciples, which disappeared rapidly after the close of the "day of probation" in 1843, after which Mr. Miller himself did not often advocate or defend his views in public. Mormon State.

William Smith, brother to the founder and Prophet, now the self-styled head of the church of Latter Day Saints, asserts in a communication to the Cincinnati Commercial, that the Salt Lake Mormons will not be content with anything less than a free and independent government. He adds that the men named as officers for this government, are men who have taken the following oath, with others equally treasonable:

You do solemnly swear in the presence of Almighty God, his holy angels, and the witnesses, that you will avenge the blood of Joseph Smith, on this nation, and teach the same to your children; and that you will, from this time, henceforth and forever, begin and carry out hostilities against the nation, and to keep the same intent a profound secret now and forever. So help you God.

Advertisements.

WE shall put forth in a few weeks the history of one of the most singular results of that great characteristic of the American people, (go-a-head-a-fire-ness) which has ever taken place in this country. A business of one hundred thousand dollars per year built up from nothing in the short space of four years. We are told that the sales of Vaughn's Veg. Lard. Mixture, the Great American Remedy have been brought to their present enormous rates in four years only. So famed is the article for its singular medicinal properties, that it is used for all diseases, in all parts of the world. Agents tell wonderful stories about it, call on them, and get a pamphlet. See advertisement in our columns.

ESTRAY.

CAME to the premises of the subscriber, sometimes in June last, a large black and white Cow, white face and legs, for which an owner is wanted. The subscriber sold said cow about the middle of November 1848, to a man from Cleveland. Whoever the owner is he is requested to come and prove the same, pay charges and take her away. N. B. If the owner fails to come for said cow, she will be sold at Stray Sale according to law. JEREMIAH MACKAY. Bay township, Ottawa co., Jan. 5, 1850—43-3.

BLACKWOOD'S MAGAZINE AND THE BRITISH QUARTERLY REVIEWS. Premium to Subscribers. Owing to the late revolutions and counter-revolutions among the nations of Europe, which have followed each other in such quick succession, and of which "THE REV" is not yet, the leading periodicals of Great Britain have become invested with a degree of interest hitherto unknown. They occupy a middle ground between the hasty dispirited, and necessarily imperfect records of the newspapers, and the elaborate and wonderful treatises to be furnished by the historian of a future day. The American publishers, therefore, deem it proper to call renewed attention to those Periodicals, and the very low prices at which they are offered to subscribers. The following is their list, viz:

The London Quarterly Review. The Edinburgh Review. The North British Review. The Westminster Review. and Blackwood's Edinburgh Magazine.

In these periodicals are contained the views moderate, though clearly and firmly expressed, of the three great parties in England—Tory, Whig, and Radical—"Blackwood," and the "London Quarterly," are Tory; the "Edinburgh Review," Whig; and the "Westminster Review," Liberal. The "North British Review" owes its establishment to the last great ecclesiastical movement in Scotland, and is not ultra in its views on any of the grand departments of human knowledge, it is originally edited by Dr. Chalmers, and now, since his death, is conducted by his son-in-law Dr. Hanna, associated with Sir David Brewster. Its literary character is of the very highest order. The "Westminster," is not a newspaper, but a review, published in England under the title of the "Foreign Quarterly and Westminster," it being in fact a union of the two reviews formerly published and reprinted under separate titles. It has, therefore, the advantage of this combination, of uniting in one work the best features of both as heretofore issued.

The above Periodicals are reprinted in New York, immediately on their arrival by the British steamers, in a beautiful clear type, on fine white paper, and are faithful copies of the originals. Blackwood's Magazine being an exact fac simile of the Edinburgh edition.

TERMS: For any of the four Reviews, $3.00 per annum. For any two, do 5.00 " For any three, do 7.00 " For all four of the Reviews, 8.00 " For Blackwood's Magazine, 3.00 " For Blackwood and three Reviews, 9.00 " For Blackwood and the four Reviews, 10.00 " Payment to be made in all cases in advance.

PREMIUMS. Consisting of back volumes of the following valuable works, viz: BENTLEY'S MISCELLANY, THE METROPOLITAN MAGAZINE, BLACKWOOD'S MAGAZINE, LONDON QUARTERLY REVIEW, EDINBURGH REVIEW, WESTMINSTER REVIEW.

Any one subscriber to Blackwood, or to one of the Reviews at $3 a year, or to any two of the Reviews at $5, will receive, gratis, one volume of any of the Premiums above named.

A subscriber to any three of the periodicals at $7 a year or to the four Reviews at $8, will receive two premium volumes as above.

A subscriber to Blackwood and three Reviews at $9 a year, or to the four Reviews and Blackwood at $10, will receive three premium volumes.

Consecutive premium volumes will be furnished when practicable, but in case of prevent disappointment, subscribers are requested to order as many different works for premiums as they may require.

Clubbing. Four copies of any or all of the above works will be sent to one address on payment of the regular subscription for three—the fourth copy being gratis.

No Premiums will be given where the above all is made to clubs, nor will premiums in any case be furnished, unless the subscription money is paid in full to the publishers, without recourse to an agent.

Remittance and communication should be always addressed, post paid or franked, to the Publishers, LEONARD SCOTT & CO. 79 FALTON STREET, NEW YORK. Entrance 54 Gold St.
